Notes:

- 1. The finance business encompasses two primary areas: leasing and loans extended to companies of all sizes, government agencies and farms; and financing for purchases by consumers. Targeting capital expenditures, the former entails the provision of loans and leasing of computers and other IT equipment, industrial machinery, medical devices and agricultural equipment. The latter helps consumers purchase goods and services that enhance their standard of living, such as automobiles, home appliances, homes and home refurbishment services.
- 2. The other financial services business consists of three sectors. The first is card services, where the company provides credit and payment services via credit cards. The second is non-life insurance ,where the company develops, sells and underwrites non-life insurance products. The third is securitization services, which entails corporate financial services such as the arrangement of securitization schemes and the brokerage and sale of securitization products. The fourth is outsourcing services. This business includes payment processing, bill collection and other settlement-related outsourcing services, as well as the provision of various administrative tasks through outsourcing contracts.
